2 次の英文を読んで、あとの問1から問10に答えなさい。

Two weeks ago, Masao and his family welcomed Nancy and her brother David to their house in Nagoya. They are going to stay with Masao for the whole summer vacation. As this is the first time for them to visit Japan, they are really glad to try things new to them.

Nancy is a new junior high student and has a nice smile. Her older brother David is a senior high student and he is very nice. He does judo. ①(彼は柔道を8年間練習してきました。)

Nancy is interested in traditional clothes such as Yukata and Kimono. She thinks that ②it is difficult () an American girl () put on Kimono. So she wishes to learn how to put on Kimono.

At dinner Nancy asked Masao to help her. Masao was very happy to hear that, but he really wondered what to show them and where to take them.

People think that in Nagoya the first place to visit is Nagoya Castle. They enjoy looking at old crafts and pictures like an old map of Nagoya which was called Owari in the Edo era.

Masao, Nancy and David are now at the castle and Masao tells them :

Masao : These pictures look like the ones in The Tale of Genji.

Nancy, ③(あなたは、これまでに、「源氏物語」について聞いたことがありますか。)

Nancy : Yes, I have. I know the title because ④(それは、デイビッドがアメリカで買った本です。)

David : I find that there are many different ⑤(story の複数形) in the book.
They are both interesting and exciting.

Nancy : ⑥(その本はいつ書かれたのですか。)

David : Ah, I don't know when, but I was surprised to hear that it is one of the oldest tales in the world.

Masao : The writer used old Japanese language. ⑦(それは、読むことを難しくします。)

David : Yes, of course. But I read the book in English. So, no problem.

Nancy : Look! This room is full of old clothes from the Edo era. It's so fantastic, isn't it? What's that?

Masao : It is called "Happi." You can see it at festivals because ⑧ (それは、みなさんがお祭りに行くときに使われます。)

David : Masao, can I join you at a summer festival in Happi?

Masao : Of course, you can.

Nancy : Your mother said, "Let's make sushi on a festival day!" David and I love sushi very much. Especially we like rolls, called makizushi.

David : Oh, I'm getting very hungry. How about you, Masao?

Masao : Me, too. Making American friends happy is a good ⑨ () for taking them to lunch.

Nancy : You are happy to eat lunch with us, too.

David : ⑩ () your help, we can understand old times in Nagoya.
Thank you very much.

Masao : You are welcome. Now, let's go to Sakae and have a big lunch.

Now David and Nancy are very happy because by looking at many traditional things they know part of Japanese history. They are taught much about Japanese history. David is very happy because he understands what is important in Nagoya.

3 次の対話文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。

(日本に留学中のMikeが、Keikoと神戸を訪れました。)

Mike : Wow! That's a big tower. It looks like "Space Needle" in Seattle.

Keiko : Yes. That's "Kobe Port Tower". It is 108 meters high. We can see the beautiful view from the top of this red steel tower.

Mike : OK, let's go up to the top of it.

(on the deck of the tower)

Keiko : Actually, Kobe has six "sister cities" and one of them is Seattle. They became "sister cities" in 1957.

Mike : ① [mean / "sister cities" / what / does] ?

Keiko : It means to make special relationships in education, culture and friendship.

Mike : That sounds interesting. ② What do both cities do to make special relationships?

Keiko : Seattle sent Kobe a seal, a small animal that swims in the sea, for the Kobe Aquarium and a nice totem pole.

The totem pole stands by the flower-clock near the city hall.

And Kobe sent Seattle Japanese pine and cherry trees. We can see them in "Kobe Terrace Park" in Seattle.

Mike : Wow! That is interesting. Kobe looks like Seattle because both cities are famous as port cities and they are important cities for trading.

Keiko : That's right. And every year, a lot of students from Seattle visit Kobe to study Japanese and Japanese culture, and students from Kobe visit Seattle, too.

Mike : ③ [to / important / cultures / it / learn / is / different]. If you learn ④ [ア. many / イ. more / ウ. less] about them, you will know foreign countries and your own country better.
